How I learned English

It started when I got off the plane. The airport was huge as a black hole but then my brother next to me said, where are we going? So our family started going. Later I told, my mom I was hungry and my brother even nodded so we unpack our stuff and my mom got a piece of chocolate bread and my brother and I shared. I will have the chocolate part, I said but I ask for it first. My brother replies and then we start arguing and later my dad tells us to do rock paper scissors and I win but I still have to share the chocolate part because he cries. and asked strangers and staff where we were going. There were about one billion people around us. When we escaped the gigantic airport there was a huge problem. We didn't know where we were at. My foot and leg almost gave out but luckily my uncle sent the address and then we booked our taxi. The taxi was a brand new car with a shiny bright yellow paint on it. When we got on it we were surprised that the person in the car was born in Vietnam. My parents chatted the whole way and the ride was 2 hours. When we got to our house the house was made out of wood which surprised us.

When we got to our house we asked Mau my uncle where we were going. It was upstairs and it used to be a storage room but now it is our room. It was huge and later we put our stuff in the room and my mom screamed, but go take a bath first then help so I just listened to my mom and went to the bathroom to take a shower. It was a huge mess but luckily I figured out how to use the shower. When I finished my mom told me to go downstairs to have some lunch but I pleaded with my mom that i dont want lunch but she yelled, you have to eat your lunch already make it so I have no choice but just to got down stair and eat my lunch when we finish we go out to explore and a few minute later my brother found a tv and when we turn on it the video is full of english words so I and my brother ask my our dad for help. Then he just said, you guys are gonna have school so I accept it.

One week later I was just sleeping normally than my mom wake me up in the middle of the night and I was confused but my mom whispered, people are sleeping shh then she pack my stuff so I just said, ok and then the bus arrive I have to run down the hill and I almost fell but I got on the bus. Then I seat down a random seat and then later there was two boys that look like they had not cut their hair in months and they said that it is there seat but I dont know what they talking about so I just act like i hear nothing later I think to myself that will it be a horribly bad day are not. When I got to school I met Mr. Rosendahl. She was nice and when we started doing the activities I was all over the room and when we were done I was still playing so that is why Mr. Rosendahl used a translator to help me understand and this is how I use the translator. If I want to say something I will talk to the translator and it automatically recognizes it and says it out loud in English.

Later I met Mr. Reilly. I was scared but Mr. Reilly said that I just need to take the test. It was easy and mr. reilly help me a lot on the word and when I finish I even got a sticker . When I got to class Mr. Rosendahl said we are gonna go to recess in a few minutes. When I got to recess I was hooked on soccer so I was a goalkeeper. I was catching the ball and I was very good too and also I was like a spider with one hundred legs but then I met Ethan. A classmate in my class and then we started playing together. Then he said do you want to play hide and seek and then I agreed why not. In Vietnam I was a pro at hide and seek. I was confident that I would win but I was wrong. The play ground was so big I couldn't even win him so then Ethan said it was your turn to hide so I listened to him. I found a spot in the playground so I crawled in the tunnel. I was sure I was about to win and somehow he found me then the bell rang. It was different. In Vietnam there was no playground. You can only run in the school and the floor it was made out of concrete some kids even fall and hurt themselves. The game in vietnam school was crocodile so you have to be on the bench and when you fall down the crocodile will try to get you. When you get caught you will turn into a crocodile and your job is to hunt people. When we got to lunch the lunch room was very big and we Also got to pick our lunch and then the lunch ladies said to type the computer number mr. rosendalh help me a lot then when I finish I sat next to Ethan and we started talking about how fun recess was and also I learned a lot of English, in Vietnam we don't get to pick our lunch and also we dont eat in the lunch room in vietnam we eat our food in our class room.

When it was dismissed we had to wait in our class until the screen got yellow, then we went to our bus. I didn't know anything so I asked one of the teachers where I was going and then she said will ride bus eight. When I got on it I was scared so I just lay down and slept. In Vietnam, our parents would pick us up. When I got home it was already afternoon. I said, please i dont want to go to school to my mom but she just said no sigh and lowered my head and went back to my room. But I just keep learning in school until 4 months later. I can finally say a full sentence but I stuttered a lot and misspelled a lot but it is fine because I can understand English and know what people are talking about in school. Thanks a lot to Ethan for helping me go to school and learn english with ez.
